Financial Advice Process

We recognise that the objectives and personal circumstances of each client are different.

Where we provide personal advice, we will listen to you to identify and understand your objectives and circumstances. We will also ask questions to ensure that we provide advice which is in your best interests.

When we first provide personal advice to you, it will be explained thoroughly and documented in a Statement of Advice (SoA) which you can read and keep for your records.

The SoA will explain the basis for our advice, the main benefits and risks associated with the advice, the cost to you of implementing the advice, the benefits we receive and any conflicts of interest which may influence the advice.

For administration platforms, investment products and personal risk insurance products, we will provide you with a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS). This contains information to help you understand the product being recommended.

At all times you are able to contact us and ask questions about our advice and the products we recommend.

We may provide further advice to you to keep your plan up to date due to changes in your circumstances, changes in the law and changes in the economy or products.

If we provide further advice it will typically be documented in a Record of Advice (RoA) which we retain on file. You can request a copy of the RoA document at any time up to 7 years after the advice is provided.

You can provide instructions to us in writing or via email, phone call or SMS text. In some cases, we may require you to provide signed instructions.

Financial Adviser Profile

Benjamin Wieland

Ben is a forward-thinking visionary who sees the big picture whilst honouring tradition.

A Partner and Senior Wealth Manager at EGU, Ben is the wealth management expert who gives clients the knowledge and tools they need to achieve their financial goals. With a Bachelor of Business double major degree in Accounting and Financial Planning, Ben has an in-depth understanding of both industries and how they impact on your financial situation. To complement these qualifications, Ben has completed a Certificate IV in Financial Services and is a qualified Justice of the Peace (JP).

“I’m immensely passionate about investing and in particular, compounding. It’s amazing to see the life changing benefits one can achieve as a result of a good financial strategy, an extended period of time and compounding.”

His commitment to providing financial advice is demonstrated through his continued education. Ben upholds the highest standards of compliance and ethics and is a member of the Financial Advice Association Australia (FAAA).

Ben takes pride in being an active member in his local community, having previously been a board member of the Teneriffe Festival Incorporated, New Farm and Districts Historical Association as well as Tattersall’s Club Shooter.

Conflicts of Interest

Our financial advisers may recommend investments in shares that they hold or may hold in the future. You will be advised where a conflict of interest may exist and how the conflict will be managed.

How Do I Pay for EGU Wealth Management Advice?

All fees are payable to EGU Wealth Management.

The method and the specific amount you will pay for EGU Wealth Management advice will be explained in the Terms of Engagement (ToE), Statement of Advice (SoA), Record of Advice (RoA) or Execution Only (EO) documents.

Generally speaking, EGU Wealth Management does not charge for initial meetings with prospective clients.

Advice Preparation and Implementation Fees

The advice preparation fee covers our time to meet with you, to determine our advice and to produce the SoA. This fee is based on the scope and complexity of the advice provided to you. We will agree the advice preparation fee with you before providing you with advice.

If you decide to proceed with our advice, we may charge a fee for the time we spend to assist you with implementation. If applicable, this fee will be detailed in the SoA or RoA that we provide to you.

Ongoing Services Fees

Our ongoing service fees depend on the ongoing service that we provide to you. It may be a percentage-based fee calculated using your portfolio value, or an agreed fixed fee which is paid monthly and recalculated annually. Our services and fees will be detailed in the SoA or RoA that we provide to you.

Insurance Fees or Commissions

In regard to personal insurance related work, our preference is to charge a set fee. However, in some cases (due to affordability) clients may wish to pay us via a commission for our work in formulating, implementing and monitoring their insurance strategies. In this situation, EGU Wealth Management may receive a one-off upfront or ongoing commission when you purchase an insurance policy we recommend. We may also receive a monthly commission payment for the duration that you continue to hold the policy.

Other Benefits

We may also receive additional benefits by way of sponsorship or education seminars, conferences or training days. Details of any benefits received above $100 will be maintained on a register which is available to you on request.

Referral Fees

We do not pay or receive any referral fees.
